

Claim Your Opportunity to Improve Wildland Fire Management!

Project Title	Claim Your Opportunity to Improve Wildland Fire Management!
Project Summary	Help communities adapt to fire by developing tools for the Community Wildland Fire Collaboration online toolkits. Increase recycling and waste reduction on wildfires. Work with the National Greening Fire Team and the National Incident Management Organization.
Country	United States

Project Description

Do you have a passion for natural resources and conservation? Sustainability? Does the word collaboration resonate with you? The projects you would be engaged on have those elements. Help us build on-line toolkits and enhance the ability of communities to build trust, create shared understandings about wildland fire, pool resources and take action to protect their communities and enhance the benefits of wildfire. Join our National Greening team and help us work on recycling and reducing waste in fire camps. Fire Camps house thousands of firefighters and generate a lot of waste that will go to the landfills if not reused or recycled. You will help the National Greening Fire Team improve fire camp sustainable operations by applying social marketing principles, social media, and consumer behavioral science to influence voluntary adoption of firefighter behaviors that recover resources and reduce the waste stream. Collaborate with our National Partnership to help implement our Memorandum of Understanding with the non-profit Hose 2 Habitat that uses firefighter old hoses to build structures for animals. Help create a Sustainable Operations kit for Public Information officers to use on wildfires.
